Contents

Preface to the Second Edition ix

Introduction xi

1. What We Teach and Why: Contemporary Literary Theory and Adolescents 1

2. Prisms of Possibilities: Introducing Multiple Perspectives 15

3. The Lens of Reader Response: The Promise and Peril of Response-Based Pedagogy 28

4. What’s Class Got to Do with It?: Reading Literature Through the Lens of Privilege and Social Class 51

5. The Social Construction of Gender: A Lens of One’s Own 65

6. Columbus Did What? Postcolonialism in the Literature Classroom 84

7. Deconstruction: Postmodern Theory and the Postmodern High School Student 96

8. Lenses and Learning Styles: Acknowledging Student Plurality with Theoretical Plurality 112

9. Critical Encounters: Reading the World 126

Appendix: Classroom Activities 135

References 203

Selected Literary Texts 207

Index 211

About the Author 221