CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ...................................................... xv

CRITICAL INTRODUCTION
   Peter Vandenberg, Sue Hum, and Jennifer Clary-Lemon ........... 1

I Theories of Relation ................................................. 21
   1 What Is Literacy?
      James Paul Gee ................................................. 29
   2 The Ideology of Literacy: A Bakhtinian Perspective
      Charles Schuster .................................................. 40
   3 What’s “New” in New Literacy Studies? Critical
      Approaches to Literacy in Theory and Practice
      Brian Street ....................................................... 50
   4 The Intellectual Work of “Mixed” Forms of Academic Discourses
      Patricia Bizzell .................................................. 72
   5 Generalizing about Genre: New Conceptions of an Old Concept
      Amy J. Devitt ..................................................... 84
   6 Sites of Invention: Genre and the Enactment of
      First-Year Writing
      Anis Bawarshi ................................................... 103
   7 Genre and Identity: Individuals, Institutions, and Ideology
      Anthony Paré ..................................................... 138

PEDAGOGICAL INSIGHTS: RELATIONS

Moving Writers, Shaping Motives, Motivating Critique
and Change: A Genre Approach to Teaching Writing
   Mary Jo Reiff ...................................................... 157

— xi —
Contents

Genre as Janus in the Teaching of Writing
Nancy Myers .............................................. 164

II Theories of Location ................................. 171
8 The Ecology of Writing
Marilyn M. Cooper ................................. 181
9 Location, Location, Location: The “Real” (E)states of Being, Writing, and Thinking in Composition
Johnathon Mauk ................................. 198
10 Composition’s Imagined Geographies: The Politics of Space in the Frontier, City, and Cyberspace
Nedra Reynolds ............................................. 226
11 Breaking Ground in Ecocomposition: Exploring Relationships between Discourse and Environment
Sidney I. Dobrin and Christian R. Weisser ................. 258
12 Constructing Disciplinary Space: The Borders, Boundaries, and Zones of English
Daniel Mahala and Jody Swilky .......................... 291
13 Bodysigns: A Biorhetoric for Change
Kristie S. Fleckenstein .............................. 328

PEDAGOGICAL INSIGHTS: LOCATIONS .......... 353
A Place in Which to Stand
Claude Hurlbert ............................................. 353
Location and (Dis)placement in Composition Pedagogy
Ellen Cushman ............................................. 358
Teaching In Situ
Derek Owens ............................................. 363

III Theories of Position ................................. 371
14 The Subject Is Discourse
John Clifford ............................................. 381
15 Class Dismissed
Mary Soliday ............................................. 400
16 History in the Spaces Left: African American Presence and Narratives of Composition Studies
Jacqueline Jones Royster and Jean C. Williams ............. 414
Contents

17 Articulating Authentic Chineseness: The Politics of Reading Race and Ethnicity Aesthetically
   Sue Hum ................................................. 442

18 Local Pedagogies and Race: Interrogating White Safety in the Rural College Classroom
   Amy E. Winans ........................................ 471

19 Becoming Visible: Lessons in Disability
   Brenda Jo Brueggemann, Linda Feldmeier White, Patricia A. Dunn, Barbara A. Heifferon, and Johnson Cheu ........... 500

20 Taming Multiculturalism: The Will to Literacy in Composition Studies
   Peter Vandenberg ...................................... 535

PEDAGOGICAL INSIGHTS: POSITIONS

Of Ambiguity and Erasure: The Perils of Performative Pedagogy
   Karen Kopelson ........................................ 563

Learning (Teaching) to Teach (Learn)
   Malea Powell ......................................... 571

INDEX ............................................................. 581

EDITORS .................................................... 603

PEDAGOGICAL INSIGHTS CONTRIBUTORS ......................... 605